I think that XM needs to be able to provide whatever content they choose, since XM is a paid subscription. I give full support to XM. This is a classic case of "survival of the fittest", and in this case, it looks like, and I hope, XM comes out on top.

I do not listen to local content, quite frankly because it's awful. I am more than willing to pay the monthly subscription to XM because it's programming and selection is much more bountiful.
